LITTLE BIT

...on most anything

Ever mindful that we'll be asked for "equal time" by Lou Haddad and Richard Hamilton, we are, in effect, letting their opponent for mayor speak some truth this week.

Steve Ross said it like he seldom has at a small gathering recently. He said it reluctantly but, brother, he said it.

The reluctance came because the issue was desegregation of our schools, not a direct matter for city government, he said. But as Ross put it, "I opposed putting cross-busing on the ballot, but the mayor went ahead and did it anyway, so I'll have to deal with that subject."

We paraphrase somewhat how he dealt with it, but essentially the following is Ross's story:

"After I was elected to the council in 1964, I had occasion to attend my first League of California Cities convention at the Mark Hopkins Hotel in San Francisco. Well, my, that was a wonderful room with such a beautiful view. And when the PG&E laid out all those tables and booze for the city officials, I found myself off enjoying it all. I looked out at all those beautiful lights and then back at all those city officials drinking the PG&E booze and I got tears in my eyes until I remembered all my brothers and sisters who didn't know where their next dime was going to come from to pay their PG&E bill.

"Next year the League went to Los Angeles. The convention was in another big hotel, but this time the bellhop took me clear back to a tiny room hardly big enough for a bed with a window looking out at four walls and a patch of sky. Well, I put my foot down and said, 'No, I won't take this room.'

"You see, I had had a taste of something better. And that's my answer to you when you ask me about busing black children to white schools. I know they're better schools and so do you.

*

"But busing is just an excuse. What if tomorrow the federal government said we will physically integrate every neighborhood in this country.

"Brothers and sisters, you just can't imagine all the reasons you white people could find for cross-busing."

Amen, Mr. Ross. CML

Mrs. Seaside

EVERY BIT as charming and gracious as this photo implies, Mrs. Amy Stuart, the flower lady of city hall in years gone by, was named Citizen of the Month last week at the regular city council meeting. At 80, Mrs. Stuart still visits city hall often, both the old which is just across the street from her home at 1599A Del Monte and the new one. Mrs. Juanita Brolliar brought the unsuspecting Mrs. Stuart to last week's meeting. "I didn't even know it was me they were talking about until Mayor Haddad was nearly through." shesaid. Mrs. Stuart was chairman of the Seaside Art Commission for 11 years before stepping down a couple of years ago. A resident of the city since 1939 she campaigned long and hard for incorporation, has a city park, Manzanita-Stuart, named after her. She got the title of flower lady because she regularly took cut flowers to city hall -- and to sustained applause last week, Mrs. Stuart beamed as Mrs. Seaside. John Perkins Photo.

Minority enrollment up slightly

The release this week of the annual ethnic balance report of the Monterey Peninsula School District merely confirmed what school officials already knew:

Thirteen of 29 schools are out of racial balance according to state requirements and generally are becoming more so.

The 13 defacto segregated schools range from 74.2 per cent minority enrollment at Highland Elementary School in Seaside to 3 per cent at La Mesa in Monterey.

Edging closer to Highland is Manzanita with 72.7 per cent, an increase of 1.7 per cent from a year ago. (Highland decreased by a like amount.)

The other Seaside segregated schools (not including Fort Ord) and their minority enrollment percentage are:

Noche Buena 69.8, King Junior High 67.9, Cabrillo 59.3 and Ord Terrace 56.8.

At the other extreme are Marina del Mar in Marina and Monte Vista, Foothill, Bay View and Del Monte Elementary Schools and Colton Junior High in Monterey.

State guidelines say a school is imbalanced if its minority enrollment varies more than 15 per cent from the district-wide average.

The MPUSD has 6,334 minority students out of 18,711 for a percentage of 33.8. That is an increase of 151 minority students for .6 per cent from last year.

Negroes; Chinese, Japanese, Koreans; American Indians; Other Non-Whites including Filipinos and mixed races; and children with Spanish Surnames are minority students, according to state guidelines.

Nearly half, or 3,030, of the minority students in the district are Negroes, or 16.2 per cent, compared with a statewide average of 8.4. In the MPUSD Oriental students total 1,129, Spanish Surname 1,312, Other Non-Whites 837 and Indian 26. Caucasian students total 12,377.

Analysis of the report shows that nearly two-thirds of the Negro students in the district are from Seaside (not including Fort Ord) or some 2,000. Of approximately 5,400 Seaside students, the minorities total roughly 3,100 or 57 per cent, while Caucasians total 2,300 or 43 per cent.

Elsewhere, Fort Ord has about 830 black students, Marina about 110 and Monterey nearly 90.

The elementary school breakdown by area in the district shows that 1.9 per cent of Monterey grade schoolers are black, with 4.2 per cent in Marina, 19 per cent on Fort Ord and 37.6 per cent in Seaside.

For total minority percentages among elementary students, Monterey has 10.8 per cent, Marina 31.9 per cent, Fort Ord 36.8 and Seaside 57.6. While Negro enrollment in Marina is 4.2 per cent, Oriental, Filipino, Spanish Surname and other non-white students total 27.7 per cent, exceeding Seaside's 20 per cent, Fort Ord's 15.8 per cent and Monterey's 8.9.

Seaside schools falling within the state minority balance guidelines are Seaside High School 39.5 per cent minority, Fremont Junior High 38.7, Covell Elementary 31.3 and Del Rey Woods 31.2.

At Seaside High less than 20 per cent of the students live in Seaside. More than 40 per cent live on post and about 39 per cent come from Marina.

Seaside students make up nearly one-third, or some 750, of the enrollment at Monterey High School.

The state board of education has given the MPUSD until June to present an outline for a plan to desegregate its racially imbalanced schools. Several school districts in California, notably Pasadena, have been forced to desgregate through federal court orders this year.

Most district have used cross-busing to achieve racial balance, but the issue became a factor in last month's $1 tax override . Opponents, who soundly defeated the measure, sought to extract a promise from trustees that tax override funds would not be used for cross-busing. School officials said no funds were planned for busing but that the district would have little choice if the federal court forced the district to desegregate.

This week the board rejected seeking another override at the time of the June 2 primaries. This will put their first chance at a re-balloting sometime in July.

The district, cut off from anticipated federal funds, is cutting budget this year to keep from wiping out reserves and going more than $300,000 in debt.

Planner appointed

Mrs. Wayne Cantu, 18-year resident of Seaside, was named Seaside's newest member of the planning commission last week by Mayor Lou Haddad.

Mrs. Cantu fills the unexpired term of Vic Messerli, who moved from the city awaiting another move to Europe. Mrs. Cantu who says she hasn't been active in local government for several years, was formerly a member of the Seaside Recreation Commission. Shortly after coming here, she campaigned for incorporation and redevelopment. Recently, Mrs. Cantu, who lives at 1607 Kimball, was an outspoken opponent of changing the R-2 zoning in the Kimball-Mescal area to R-1. The planners retained the zoning. Mrs. Cantu's husband, Wayne, is owner of Peninsula Cabinet and Furniture Refinishers.

The Cantus have two grown children, son Wayne, an engineer in San Jose, and daughter Dina, who is married and lives with her husband and their two children in Berkeley

Auto center opening Saturday

The Monterey Peninsula Auto Center will open officially Saturday when Wester Volkswagen and Big O Tires hold grand opening ceremonies.

The day-long festivities will start at 8 a.m. with a $1 pancake breakfast sponsored by the Seaside Chamber of Commerce in the new Wester building.

Bands from King and Fremont Junior High Schools will play and dedication of the Gateway Project by Seaside Redevelopment Agency officials will follow at 10 a.m.

The grand openings of Wester and Big O will start at 11:30 and 11:45.

Miss Volkswagen of Monterey Peninsula will be crowned at noon with guessing and a VW pushing contest to highlight afternoon activities.

Cost squeeze hits public services

Evidence of nationwide recessionary trends were apparent last Thursday night at the Seaside City Council meeting.

The city's garbage collector, the taxi franchisee and the bus lines owner all let councilmen know, directly or indirectly, that they were feeling the cost squeeze. Two asked for rises in rates and the other hinted some form of public subsidy might be necessary to keep him in business.

Lee Martelli, owner of Seaside Disposal Service and a part-owner of other garbage collection firms on the Peninsula, remainded councilmen at their agenda session that he had notified the city five months ago that he would not renew his contract with the city at present rates when it expires in April.

Martelli, noting that his men's union contract moved them to $30 a day, told the council he couldn't continue to lose money as he has for the last three years.

He is asking for an increase of 25¢ per month for home garbage collection, which includes the pickup of four cans from curbside.

Present rates are $1.75 a month.

Later at the council meeting Verlon Coleman of Bob's Seaside Taxi appeared with his second request for a fare increase.

After Coleman indicated he would settle for an increase in mileage rates from 50¢ to 60¢ a mile — the same as Monterey — and forego an increase in the initial charge, Mayor Lou Haddad said Coleman could workout his proposal with a committee composed of City Manager Milt Farrell, City Atty. Saul Weingarten and Police Chief Bennie Cooper. The council had not acted on Coleman's first request because the three-man committee said he hadn't submitted sufficient accounting statistics.

Later councilmen pondered over a rumor that Bay Rapid Transit may go out of business, but this week R. L. Ward, owner BRT, said his firm was "planning to stay in business."

He admitted, however, that he is "exploring possibilities" to keep from having to reduce services. He said drivers got a raise that would amount to $6,000 to $7,000 per year beginning March 1, and that their union contract would expire at the end of September.

He said the company may be forced to seek some type of public subsidy from the whole Peninsula.

He said his studies and passenger counts would take about a month. He indicated BRT probably would not seek a fare increase because of the potential loss of business, but he said services may have to be reduced.

It was also noted at the council meeting that the Southern Pacific may be anticipating trying to reduce service on the Del Monte to and from San Francisco, as the railroad has in the past.

SP said this week it was asking to stop selling tickets in the Monterey station on Sundays only, and that no service reduction was planned. An SP spokesman said passengers on the Sunday train would pay the conductor.

Councilman Steve Ross urged the council to explore steps to reopen the Greyhound Bus Depot in Seaside. It has closed and the GI Coffeehouse has opened in that location.

Best poster

JUDELYN ANN HALCOMB, 17, a Seaside High Schhol student, Monday was presented with the grand award of the Western International Keep Green Poster Contest at Conservation Convocation of Youth Seaside High special assembly. The assembly, convened in her honor, also featured student speakers from Carmel, Monterey, Pacific Grove and Seasich High Schools, who are active in various conservation projects and environmental pollution studies. Her winning poster, "Fire — The Destroyer" was judged best in all categories of over 3,000 entires from the Western United States and Western Canada at the recent Western Frestry and Conservation Conference in Spokane, Wash. Judelyn's poster previously won first place in the Redwood Region Conseration Council's 1969 Annual Fire Prevention Poster Contest, junior high division, while still a student in Mrs. Ann Konig's ninth grade art class at Fitch Junior High. CONSPICUOUS at an all-school convocation on pollution this week at Seaside High School was this banner, which, if you can't read it, says: "Parents: 'You'd walk a mile for a Camel,' but PLEASE don't make us walk '3' miles to school!" The sign referred to action by the school board Monday night in which administrators said busing of high school students who live within three miles of campus would be eliminated. The move was part of steps taken by the school trustees to cut some $320,000 from this year's budget. The cuts became necessary when expected federal allotments were decreased. John Perkins Photo.

League To Begin Justice Study

This meeting begins a two-year, state-wide study and evaluation of California's judicual system, with particular emphasis on juvenile justice and justice for the poor. Thirsday's meeting, the first in the study, will describe the basic structure and function of the court system of California and its relation to the Monterey Peninsula.

The interested public, League members, and guests, are invited to attend. Those wishing to attend the $2 luncheon at noon, please call Mrs. Kennedy White for reservations at 624-4538 or the League office at 372-8312. Baby sitting arrangements will be provided.

Scholarship

The Ft. Ord Officers Wives Club will present a $500 scholarship to a military dependent being graduated from high school this June and who plans to enter an accredited college or university.

Mrs. John D. Hogan Jr., OWC philanthropy chairman, said that students should apply for scholarship consideration through their counselors, who will have the complete list of requirements and forms.

Esperanto Course Offered

A credit course in Esperanto (international language) is being offered by the Monterey Peninsula Unified School District, division of adult education, to be conducted by Dr. B.J Balcar at Monterey High School on Friday evenings from 7 to 9:30 p.m.

A minimum enrollment of 20 students is required before this class can begin. Enrollments are being accepted at the adult school office at Monterey High School Monday through Thursday, from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m., and a fee of $3 is required for registration. The class will begin when enrollment reaches 20.

Politically neutral, Esperanto is a phonetic, scientifically constructed alnguage which does not aim at replacing the existing national languages, but serves as an effective and aconomical instrument of international communication. The goal of this course in Esperanto is to give the student the ability to understand the spoken language and to converse effectively with fluent esperantists, to read and wrtie in Esperanto in order to be able to utilize this skill later in reading Esperanto books and periodicals, in social contacts, in corresponding, in teaching Esperanto, in translating Esperanto literature, and in traveling abroad.

MPC Documentaries

Two documentary films - "Annapurna" and "Volcano Surtsey" will b shown as a presentation of the "Window on the World" series Friday, March 13, at 8 and 9:45 p.m. In the Monterey Peninsula College music hall.

Only tickets for the 9:45 screening are available. Priced at $1, these may be obtained afternoons from the MPC community services office in the administration building on campus or purchased at the door.

"Annapurna," a 57 minute film in color, suspensefully portrays the granduer of the Himalayas as it follows a French expedition through the preparation for, ascent of and agonizing descent from Annapurna.

The spectacular birth of a new volcano and the 1 1/2 square-mile island it produced is brilliantly captured in "Volcano Surtsey," a 30 minute color film. "For fireworks" said one critic, "it exceeds any celebration ever planned by man."

As they are perennials, they ordinarily do not flower until the second year.

BOB WOOD REPORTS

A Weekly Column By The 34th District Assemblyman

Things are beginning to get a little warm here in Sacramento as most of you know and this time I am not relating to the local weather conditions. It's not a healthy condition when a couple of Senators with many years of service in Sacramento and who have known each other for many years fail to greet or acknowledge the others presence in the small confines of the capitol elevator. The Senate appears to have their problems at the moment but as in most cases I think the end results will be more strict regulations and laws concerning dampaign funding and reporting to the general public, who have every right to know at all times. I can't help but feel that all members of the Senate regardless of which particular faction they happen to be on at the moment will be glad to have a set of rules to go by, so that the indident we have all seen on TV and read about in our local newspapers will never again need be an issue of concern to the legistator or the public.

Here in the Assembly an interesting and revealing incident came out the other day and as it effects all of us I thought you would be interstd. It seems the money allocated to build our freeways is now proportioned so that the 13 counties in Southern California receive 55% of the total and those in the 45 northern counties receive 45% of the total amount. Through the one man one vote procedure enacted into law a few years ago, the Assemblymen south of the Tehachapi mountains began to realize that they had more Assemblymen in total numbers than the number of Assemblymen that represented all 45 Northern California counties which includes our own Monterey county. They asked approval of a bill which would give Southern California 60% of the total monies for freeways and leave us in Northern Caliornia only 40% of the total money to be distributed. Their principal argument in favor of such a split was the fact that they could prove that 61.6% of the population, 60.3% of the assessed valuation and 61% of the motor vehicles were in the 13 Southern California counties. Our principal arguemtn in opposition was that Los Angeles has done nothing about gonding themselves for a special rapid transit district to help solve their problem and more freeways would just add to the dangerous smog problem which is already forcing the evacuation of almost 25,000 people a year from that area due to emphysema, bronchitis, and so on. However there are not enough of us in the 45 northern counties, and the 13 Southern California counties mustered 43 votes and, in an 80 man legislature every day arithmetic reveals to us the facat that Southern California in a strictly geographical issue, now has the votes. If this measure gets through the Senate Transportation committee and the Senate also, the end result will be an even further slowing up of much needed freeway construction here in our own Monterey county. You have all heard the old saying, "if you can't beat 'em, join 'em". Maybe our next best move is to try and move the southern district a little further north where Monterey county would be considered part of the southern district and we could share in the 60% road allocation instead of a portion of the 40% recommended for the Northern California Counties.

Enough for now...

Do you want to believe in God?

You can. Not just because of what someone says about God. But because of what you yourself can learn and prove about divine Love.

Like the woman who was instantly freed by an assailant one night – when she turned to God in prayer. Or the entertainer whose back was healed through prayer after he was told he couldn't walk without surgery.

These individuals found that divine Love meets even the most challenging human needs . . . that powerful spiritual laws are available for anyone to use.

You can learn more of these laws by reading this week's Bible Lesson.

They will send $1 for seven different labels from one group of products, and $2 for including five more labels from another group. Both groups cover their most popular sellers. Details on this campaign were announced in the Sunday newspaper "magazine" sections and with store forms, but all the details are also available in the refund bulletins.

It would be impossible to read enough magazines and newspapers or find enough store forms on your own to take advantage of all these offers. This function of gathering all the refund information together is adequately performed by the refund bulletins. A subscripyion to one pays the consumer back countless times.

If you have already received your bulletin, you're now in business. If you have yet to subscribe to one, consider asking for your subscription to inculde at least the previous month's issue--maybe even two months' back issues. As the information is usually not repeated, the details on the offers mentioned a ove along with many others are only available now in these back issues.

To avoid confusion and frustration, it is really important to take a little time to organize your refunding efforts, After trying different systems, ranging from index cards to various notebookds, I have finally settled on one notebook system that serves me well. You might consider patterning your notebook after this one.

The ideal size for this loose-leaf notebook, which travels to stores with me, and includes in the front my regular weekly shopping list and lists of other errands to be performed, is 8 1/2 x 5 1/2. That is actually the size of the index and pper, the notebook being a little larger than that.

My notebook also has convenient inside envelopes on both the front and back, where I keep "cash-off coupons," (another subject for another week) and new refund forms as I find them in stores.

In the notebook, I have an alphabetical index and a monthly index. The alphabetical index is vital' the monthly index is optional. These index dividers can be as simple as plastic tabs glued to pieces of paper. Or you may decide to invest in more expensive, but much more sturdy leather-tab index dividers.

The paper, too, can be the usual lined loose-leaf paper or more expensive columnar paper. One pack of the columnar paper lasts well over a year, and saves drawing all those vertical lines.

Within each section of the alphabetical index, put one or two sheets of paper. At the top of each sheet, put these columnar headings: Expiration Date; Source of Address; Product; Form; Amount of Refund; Date Sent; Date Received. Of course, you will want to abbreviate some of those. All the colums should range from one-half to one inch in width, with the exception of the "product" column, which requires at least two inches of space. The monthly index section, if you wish to use one, requires no columnar arrangement. Plain pages are adequate, as this section simply serves as a "tickler" or reminder file.

If you're not sure that refunding is going to appeal to you that much, at least save this column along with the previous refunding columns. Try it for a while on a much smaller scale than this. You may well decide, when the postman begins delivering those quarters and dollar bills, that it really is worth the little effort involved.

Next week, we'll discuss how to make this notebook system work for you!.

Tax Filing By April 15 Urged

Taxpayers were urged today to prepare their California personal income tax return early and to pay the full amount due by April 15.

"If the return is not filed on time and paid in full, the taxpayer will lose the special tax reduction referred to in Part VI on page 2 of Form 540", said Martin Huff, Executive Officer of the Franchise Tax Board.

Huff said the law specifically provides that the special tax reduction can be taken only on timely filed, fully paid returns. There are no provisions for partial or installment payment of State person income tax. The tax due on April 15, 1970, is based on income received during 1969 and must be paid in full.

The taxpayers who wait until the last minute to prepare their returns often find they lack the necessary information to justify deductions or readily available funds to meet their liability.

Garden Club

The March meeting for the Monterey Peninsula Men's Garden Club will be held March 16 at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Fred Bell, Oleanda Rd. in the Country Club, phone 624-4482. Bell has an excellent collection of African Violets which will provide the topic for this meeting. All men on the Peninsula are invited to attend. Members and guests should come in through the Carmel Hill Gate.

SONG POETRY

"A BLACK MAN SPEAKS IN PEOTRY, Monologue and Song," a unique program to be presented by Eugene Jones, is scheduled for Sunday, March 15, 3 p.m. at Martin Luther King Junior High School. The program, sponsored by Monterey Peninsula College community services with the cooperation of the Monterey Peninsula Unified School District, is free to the public.

Eugene Jones is a versatile artist whose "rich, powerful bass voice" - as one critic described it - has earned him operatic roles with the San Francisco Municipal Chorus' Opera presentations. He has been soloist with the San Francisco Back Society, the Oakland Symphony Orchestra and the Carmel Back Festival (when a local critic described his singing as "the most vibrant male boice heard thus far").

Seaside Students Win In Math

Three Seaside High School students won prizes as more than 140 junior high and high school students from throughout Monterey County participated last Saturday in the renewed Annual Mathletes Unite Contest.

The Seaside winners were Richard Dameron, second place in the 12th grade competion; and Rita Tamayo and James Thompson, runners up in the 10th grade division.

In addition to skills testing, the day-long event featured a guest lecturer, Brother Alfred from St. Mary's College, who presented a stimulating presentation of Pic's Law of points on the interior and exterior of a closed curve. Audience participation was invited to help derive the formula from the data gatherd.

Other local students participating:

Martin Luther King Jr. High, Emmanuel Roger, Aviva Goldman - 7th; Cathy Thompson, Cheryl Peterson - 8th.

Tax Exemption Forms Mailed

Filing of homeowners' and veterans' Iroperty tax exemptions is now under way, according to Monterey County Assessor Donald P. Stewart.

Exemptions claim forms have been mailed to all those persons who received the $750 homeowner's exemption last year. Any person who has not yet received a form and believes he amy be entitled to file should contact the assessor's office at once. The filing period extends only until April 15.

The requirements for receiving the Homeowner exemption are relatively simple, according to Stewart. The property upon which the exemption is claimed must have been owned by the applicant on March 1, 1970, and must also have been his principal place of residence at that time. The exemption does not apply to vacant or rented property. Stewart emphasized that the application form must be filled out completely and returned to this office no later than April 15 to qualify the homeowner for exemption. The law does not allow any extension of time for filing.

To file for 'veterans' $1000 exemption, the applicant must have either entered the service from California initially, or have been a legal resident of California on November 3, 1964. In addition, he must have served on active duty in the armed forces during a time of war, as specified for this purpose, or have been discharged from peacetime service because of a service incurred disability. When filing for veterans' exemption for the first tim, evidence of qualifying must be submitted in person to the assessor. Subsequent filings can be amde by mail. Neither the applicant or his wife may own "property of the value of $5,000 or more," and receive the exemption. For this purpose, the assessed value of taxable property and the actual value of non-taxables such as stocks and bonds, money in the bank, automobiles, etc. are used to determine the applicant's total value.

Stewart said that the laws concerning both of these exemptions are getting more and more complex. Anyone with a question regarding exemptions is invited to call the Assessor's Office at 372-7395 or write to the Assessor's Office, P.O. Box 570, Salinas, Attention Exemption Department.

Investment Lecture

Fred Irani, a stockbroker for the nationwide investment firm of Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis, will discuss the various aspects of mutual fund investing in a series of two lectures March 12, at the Casa Munras Garden Hotel (Castillian Room) Fremont and Munras, Monterey.

The afternoon lecture will be held from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. The evening lecture will run continuously from 5:30 to 8:30. Irani, a mutual fund specialist in Paine, Webber's Beverly Hills office, will show three different color sound movies on various investment topics.

Admission to the lectures is free.

Women's Health

San Francisco (WMNS) - A specialist in family planning has cautioned her fellow doctors that family planning is "not the private domain of a few specialists," but is vital to the practice of all good medicine.

As examples, Dr. Mary E. Lane, clinical director of the contraception service of the Margaret Sanger Research Bureau in New York, cited a man with a heart attack whose wife should certainly not have a fifth baby, an "already overburdened mother" who should not have to cope with a grandchild and a teenage daughter, a young impoverished couple who should not yet begin their family, and an already neglected child who should not have another brother or sister.

Good medicine, Dr. Lane believes, deals with human relationships as well as illness or potential illness. Because of this, "more is involved in contraception than the mere swallowing of a pill" and doctors can help patients improve the patterns of their lives.

Road Work

The state highway commission has allocated $37,000 to install traffic signals and modify highway lighting at the intersection of the Route 1 northboung off-ramp with Aquajito Road and Mark Thomas Drive in Monterey.

The intersection is the main access between a large residential area, including a U.S. Naval housing development, and the downtown area of Monterey, which includes the Naval Postgraduate School and the Monterey Peninsula College. There is considerable congestion and delay during the morning and evening peak hours. There is also considerable conflict involving left-turning traffic.

The improvements will relieve the congestion and provide for safe and orderly traffic flow.

BiCentennial Lecture

At 7:30 p.m. Friday at the Seaside City Hall Professor Richard N. Bibler will give an illustrated lecture on the map of the Monterey Peninsula which he drew for the be-centennial. Also on the program Ernie Osuna, bicentennial ambassador, will relate his experiences during the San Diego bi-centennial celebration. He will talk about the events that have taken place in Monterey to date and those planned for the rest of our bi-centennial year.

On March 18, at 8 p.m. in the ballroom of Herrmann Hall of the Naval Postgraduate School, The International Ladies whose husbands are students at the Postgraduate School will present International Night.

He came to the United States from West Germany in 1951 and completed his schooling in this country, including two years at the University of Maryland. He and his wife, Carol, and two sons, Tony and Rodney, currently live in Prunedale. Young had been manager of Seaside Safeway since September of 1968 and is currently second vice president of the Seaside Chamber of Commerce. He is a member of Seaside Rotary Club. PT&T sets 1970 construction

Pacific Telephone & Telegraph has announced $1.75 million in construction for the Peninsula this year.

Major expenditure will include:

--$400,000 for a 25' x 88' one-story building addition to the existing central office at 7th and Junipero, Carmel.

--$94,000 for new switching equipment and toll trunks at 401 Franklin St., Monterey.

--$116,000 for custom dialing equipment at 401 Franklin, designed for Centres service for the Monterey Peninsula Unified School District.

Another $280,000 has been earmarked in 1970 for undergrounding in the Monterey area, local manager Don Boston announced.

The remaining outlay will b used for additional cable and related communications equipment.

The centrex equipment will set up the school district with a system similar to that used on Fort Ord and the Naval Postgraduate School.

Asst. Supt. Mel Isenberger says the new system will cost about the same $4,000 a month that the district is now spending. He envisages a reduction in cost over a long period.

Basically the centrex equipment will do away with two central switchboards and allow each extension in the school district a direct line out and in.

APPLICATION FOR PUBLICATION OF SUMMONS AND ORDER

ELIZABETH CHILDS, Petitioner,
-and-
FREDERICK R. CHILDS, Respondent.

I, THE UNDERSIGNED, DECLARE:

That I am the Petitioner in the above-entitled Petition; That the respondent cannot with due diligence be found within the State of California; The facts of the due diligence used in the effort to find FREDERICK R. CHILDS are as follows: I checked with his ex-employer, Department of Motor Vehicles, and from his best friend in Los Angeles, however, they all could not furnish the whereabouts of the respondent.

Petitioner and respondent were living together at 3082 Zanetta Dr., Marina, California. However, on June 21, 1969, without any reason at all, respondent disserted me, and on the 27th day of June, I received a letter from the respondent to the effect that he won't be coming back anymore.

I searched the telephone directories of Monterey County and the City of Salinas, the City Directory of Salinas, and the Registrar of Voters, and have been unable to fine his name listed therein.

The creditors of respondent were looking for him. They also made effort to locate the respondent for the purpose of collecting certain obligations which he owed them. I communicated with them and they have been looking for him since July 1969, but they were unable to locate him. They told me that they canvassed his friends, relatives, the Motor Vehicles Department, and other sources of information which were available to them, but they have been unable to locate him.

A good ground for legal separation exists against respondent and in favor of Petitioner as shown by the Petition on file herein, which Petition is hereby incorporated by reference, the same as though fully set forth at length.

That the Seaside News Sentinel is a newspaper of general circulation published in the City of Seaside, County of Monterey, State of California; That the publication of the Summons herein in the said newspaper is most likely to give notice of the legal separation herein between Petitioner and respondent.

WHEREFORE, Petitioner prays that this Court order publication of the Summons herein to be published in the Seaside News Sentinel, once a week for four (4) consecutive weeks.

I declare, under penalty of perjury, that the foregoing is true and correct.

EXECUTED on February 11, 1970, at Seaside, California.
